Sticks 'n' Stones is a community arts program run by the Torture and Trauma Survivors Service of the Northern Territory (TTSSNT) and Tracks Inc. – a dance and performing arts company. Through the Sticks 'n' Stones workshops, web site and performances, young people from a range of cultural backgrounds have come together to celebrate different identities and promote racial tolerance. Sticks 'n' Stones is proudly supported by the Commonwealth Government's Living in Harmony initiative, which aims to promote community harmony. Our web site www.sticksnstones.org.au is also supported by the Northern Territory Government Office of Ethnic Affairs and QANTM.
